

Dr. John W. Gibson, Co-Author, Personal Safety Nets®

DR. JOHN W. GIBSON is an experienced counselor, consultant, coach and educator. He holds degrees from Columbia University and the University of Michigan in psychology, social work, and applied statistics, with a specialization on adult development and family relationships. Dr. Gibson is a certified mediator and licensed clinical social worker with over 35 years experience working in healthcare and academic settings.

Dr. Gibson conducts national and international training seminars and speaks to corporate and non-profit organizations including the American Association of Retired Persons, Microsoft, Alzheimer's Association, American Heart Association, Paine Webber, and the American Society on Aging. Over the past 35 years, he has spoken on the issues of communication skills, multi-generational family relationships, health, conflict resolution, retirement, aging and multi-generational workforce, eldercare and care giving. As a counselor and coach, he regularly consults with individuals and families on personal and professional issues, and frequently helps them set up personal safety nets or create care-share teams.

Dr. Gibson has been on the faculty of the University of Washington School of Social, been a research faculty member at Columbia University, and has taught classes at New York University and Hunter College. He also has experience in a variety of public and private agencies, and civilian and military hospitals focusing on healthcare, family and counseling issues.

Dr. Gibson is the author of five books and more than 20 professional articles.

Currently, he resides in the Pacific Northwest.

For more information or to arrange an interview, please contact Linda at 206-659-0665 or Linda@PersonalSafetyNets.com